RE: Compliance
Campaign of Thomas Brown for Congress
4th Congressional District of Georgia

Dear Mr. Lev:

Former DeKalb County (GA) Sheriff Tom Brown, a candidate for Georgia's 4th District, United States House of Representatives, has repeatedly demonstrated a blatant disregard for the "rules of the road." He has arrogantly or ignorantly and with reckless indifference embarked on a Federal campaign that plays outside the rules. He has ignored many basic tenants of campaign fair play and I am bringing this formal complaint to the FEC to seek your help in bringing him into compliance as quickly as possible.

I have reason to believe and suspect that Thomas Brown, former sheriff of DeKalb County, Georgia, may have violated numerous rules established by the FEC regarding federal campaigns. Specific interested parties include former Sheriff Thomas Brown, the Thomas Brown for Congress campaign committee, which listed as designated agent Angelo Fuster and Dr. George Coletti DMD as treasurer and the Citizens 4 Thomas Brown Exploratory Committee, which lists Angelo Fuster, Chair and Rhonda Taylor, Secretary. As a key member of Citizens 4 Thomas Brown Exploratory Committee, as will be shown below, Atty. Sherri Washington is also an interested party. The two entities and five (5) persons aforementioned can be served as respondents at P. O. Box 611, Stone Mountain, GA 30086 which is the registered mailing address for Thomas Brown for Congress as filed in the FEC Disclosure. (Attachment 1)

Below are specific concerns that give reason for my belief and suspicion that Mr. Brown has violated FEC guidelines, and which I believe deserve a response from Mr. Brown. I further believe that if my beliefs and suspicions are found to be true and correct, then the violations of federal election laws warrant the imposition of appropriate sanctions.

My specific concerns are listed below:

Untimely filing of FEC Statement of Candidacy and Statement of Organization

On October 30, 2013, Thomas Brown, then sitting as the elected Sheriff of DeKalb County, Georgia ("Sheriff Brown" or "Mr. Brown"), filed a Statement of Candidacy and a Statement of Organization with the FEC, registering the Thomas Brown for Congress Campaign Committee. (Attachment 2) However, in February 2013, eight months prior to registering his campaign committee, then Sheriff Thomas Brown appears to have raised and/or spent in excess of $5000.00 on his campaign for election to the U.S. Congress in Georgia's fourth District. The failure to file a Statement of Candidacy within 15 days of raising or spending $5000.00 or more, or to file a Statement of Organization within 10 days thereof, constitute violations of FEC rules.

For the following reasons I suspect that during the month of February 2013, Thomas Brown paid for a telephone poll that was conducted throughout Georgia's 4th Congressional District, using funds contributed to the Thomas Brown for Sheriff Campaign committee that was governed by State of Georgia Campaign contribution and expenditure rules, which significantly differ from the Federal rules.

Since at least early January 2013, Thomas Brown was openly seeking public support to run for Congress in Georgia's Fourth Congressional District. In early to mid-February 2013, it is believed that a telephone poll was conducted throughout the Fourth District.

This telephone poll sought to gauge the popularity of then DeKalb County Sheriff Thomas Brown, against DeKalb County Commissioner Lee May, former DeKalb County District Attorney Gwen Keyes Fleming, and the current 4th Congressional District Representative, Congressman Hank Johnson. It is believed that the poll tested Thomas Brown's name recognition and popularity in Gwinnett, Rockdale and Newton counties, three counties that lie outside of DeKalb County and which, along with DeKalb County, make up Georgia's Fourth Congressional District. As Sheriff of DeKalb County, Mr. Brown should have had no interest in his name recognition in surrounding counties.

In that period, former DeKalb County District Attorney Gwen Keyes Fleming was living in Washington, D.C., having accepted a job with the Obama administration. It thus appears that former D.A. Keyes Fleming would have had no interest in commissioning a poll to gauge her support and name recognition throughout the Fourth District of Georgia.

At the time the poll was conducted, Congressman Hank Johnson had been recently re-elected, and he denied commissioning the poll. He also noted that within days of the poll's commencement, Commissioner Lee May telephoned him to deny any involvement in commissioning the poll. Thomas Brown had also just won re-election as Sheriff of DeKalb County, with almost a full four years to serve before being up for re-election.

Since Lee May and Congressman Johnson denied commissioning the poll, and Gwen Keyes Fleming had moved away from the state, it is logical to conclude that Thomas Brown would have been the only one of the four subjects of the poll, to benefit from knowing the poll results.

Payments to political polling firm HEG in January and February 2013 from Thomas Brown for Sheriff Account

The Thomas Brown for Sheriff campaign committee filed a campaign finance report with the Georgia Ethics Commission on July 1, 2013, disclosing contributions and expenditures during the period from Jan. 1, 2013-June 30, 2013. (Attachment 3) Said report shows two expenditures of $6000.00 each on

17044414480

Jan. 24, 2013 and Feb. 24, 2013, paid to "HEG, 2774 Royal Oaks Drive, Tallahassee, Ga. [sic] 32309", with both listing "Research" as the purpose for the expenditure. Perhaps incidentally, there is no city of Tallahassee in the State of Georgia. (This could be a typo or a deliberate attempt to obfuscate the contact information for this firm.) There is a firm known as Hicks Evaluation Group or HEG with an address listed as 2774 Royal Oaks Drive, Tallahassee, Florida 32309

Upon information and belief, HEG, LLC, the payee aforementioned, was in fact Hicks Evaluation Group LLC, 2774 Royal Oaks Drive, Tallahassee, Florida. HEG LLC aka Hicks Evaluation Group LLC is a campaign-consulting firm that, among other campaign related activities conducts political polling. (Attachment 4)

These circumstances justify my belief that the two checks made payable to HEG LLC from the bank account of The Committee To Elect Thomas Brown for Sheriff, were disguised payments for that firm's conducting the Feb. 2013 poll for Tom Brown's upcoming Congressional race. Because the expenditures from the Thomas Brown for Sheriff campaign fund were used in pursuit of Thomas Brown's congressional campaign, they should have been reported as contributions to the Thomas Brown for Congress campaign committee in its FEC Year End Campaign Finance Disclosure filed on Jan. 3, 2014. (Attachment 5) The failure to report said contributions to the FEC constitutes a violation of FEC rules.

Use of federally prohibited funds in furtherance of Tom Brown's campaign for Congress

Georgia law allows corporations and partnerships to contribute to candidates for Georgia public office, whereas federal law bans contributions from corporations and partnerships to candidates for federal office. Review of the attached report (Attachment 6) shows 18 contributions from corporate and partnership sources to the Thomas Brown for Sheriff campaign committee. A contribution to a federal campaign, in whole or in part, from a prohibited source, must certainly be deemed a violation of federal campaign finance law. Thomas Brown has therefore violated FEC rules and federal laws by using funds from his Thomas Brown for Sheriff Campaign bank account to fund his congressional campaign.

More Evidence of Untimely Filing Due to Contributions Exceeding $5,000 on or before August 7, 2013

Notwithstanding the expenditures by the Committee To Elect Thomas Brown for Sheriff in February, 2013 for the stated purpose of "research", the yearend reports filed with the FEC by the Thomas Brown for Congress Campaign Committee show, on their face, that said committee violated FEC rules by failing to file a Statement of Candidacy within 15 days of raising or spending $5000.00 or more, or to file a Statement of Organization within 10 days thereof.

The FEC Year End Campaign Finance Disclosure referred to above, and the Amended Report filed on January 28, 2014, disclose contributions from Donald Brown dated 7/16/13 in the amount of $2500.00, Dr. George D.N. Colletti (the Thomas Brown for Congress Campaign Committee Treasurer) dated 7/18/13 in the amount of $1000.00, Anita Ross dated 7/23/13 in the amount of $1000.00, Jim L. Jackson dated 8/6/13 in the amount of $250.00 and Claude L. McGiver, III dated 8/7/13 in the amount of $500.00. (Attachment 7)

The report shows that the $5000.00 threshold was reached by August 7, 2013. The latest date for Thomas Brown to file a Statement of Candidacy would have been August 22, 2013, and September 1, 2013, would have been the last day for the Statement of Organization to be filed. Said documents were not filed with the FEC until over more than two months later. With both the Statement of Candidacy and the Statement of Organization having been filed delinquent, the reports themselves prove that FEC rules were violated.

Evidence to support that FEC filing should have occurred on or before July 17, 2013

Additional cause to believe that Thomas Brown met the $5000 threshold long before October 30, 2013, arises from the press conference that he called to announce the formation of his exploratory committee.

On or about July 17, 2013, Thomas Brown held a press conference to announce his intent to become a candidate, and that he would commence gauging support for the Democratic Party nomination for Georgia's 4th congressional District seat in the U.S. House of Representatives for the 2014 primary election.

Reporter Doug Richards of WXIA TV who wrote a commentary on the press conference, made the following statement: "In reports filed this month, Johnson reported having $58,417 in his campaign coffers. Brown's campaign bank account isn't that far behind at $46,459." (Attachment 8) In furtherance of his campaign, this story was posted and a video linked to it on the Citizens for Thomas Brown Face book page thus spreading and perpetuating this false comparison.

The contrast that the reporter made between the two accounts establishes probable cause to believe that at that time (July 17, 2013), Thomas Brown may have had a congressional campaign bank account, and had raised at least $46,459 for his congressional campaign. Should that prove to be correct then it is clear indication that Thomas Brown has been severely dilatory in carrying out his responsibility to comply with FEC reporting requirements. If it is not correct, then he was using money from his Sheriff's account to fund his Congressional campaign which is clearly a violation of Federal campaign finance law.

Billboard expenditure not reported and not attributed to any independent committee

Another example of Thomas Brown ignoring his obligation to comport his campaign activities with FEC reporting requirements is evidenced by the fact that on or about October 1, 2013, continuously until January, 2014, a flashing electronic commercial billboard located on the heavily travelled Interstate Highway 20, in Rockdale County, Georgia, displayed the name Thomas Brown, as if on a printed ballot, with a checkmark in a box next to the name. The billboard is on the property of Courtesy Ford, 1636 Dogwood Drive SE, Conyers, GA 30013, and a road that runs parallel to I-20.

Rockdale County sits between Newton and DeKalb counties, with all three counties being a part of Georgia's Fourth Congressional District. Interstate Highway 20 is an east/west major highway artery that extends through and links all three counties. The above referenced billboard is located 2.5 miles then the acceptance of an in kind contribution from either source would be a violation of federal law.

(Attachment 10)

Ongoing and continuous violations of the Disclaimer Rule on Campaign printed material

Finally, on November 29, 2013, and two times on December 7, 2013, and on January 20, 2014, Thomas Brown, each time with a group of supporters, marched in Veterans Day, Christmas and MLK Holiday parades, wearing Thomas Brown For Congress T-shirts, carrying Thomas Brown For Congress professional quality yard signs, and passing out professional quality Thomas Brown For Congress hand cards. These materials did not include the requisite Disclaimer. (Attachment 11 including several ads without the Disclaimer). The FEC year-end campaign disclosure form makes no mention of expenditures for campaign T-shirts, campaign yard signs, and campaign hand cards, or in-kind donations of same as contributions. The failure to report the expenditures for these campaign materials or the receipt of same, as in kind contributions could constitute violations of FEC rules.

Again, former Sheriff Tom Brown is a candidate who has repeatedly demonstrated a blatant disregard for the "rules of the road." By this complaint, we are asking that he be notified in accordance with FEC complaint guidelines to bring his campaign into compliance and that appropriate sanctions be imposed for any verifiable violations.

UPDATE: A spokesperson for Rep. Hank Johnson said, in response to Brown's statements, that the congressman has brought almost $9 million in transportation, education, and housing funding back to Rockdale County.

"As a representative who voted for the Recovery Act and was the SE Regional Whip at the time who helped get the law passed in 2009-2010, Rep. Johnson's efforts translated into Rockdale transportation sector receiving $4 million, school system receiving $4.3 million and housing programs receiving $573,000," said spokesperson Andy Phelan. "The public safety sector received more than $500,000 under the Recovery Act alone."

Also, Johnson sits on the House Armed Services and Judiciary committees, not on the Transportation Committee, said Phelan,.

for the Democratic side, but to bring and develop relationships on the Republican side as well as we move the whole pendulum more to the center so we can deal with the problems we have in Washington but to bring real solutions."

He questioned the influence incumbent Congressman Hank Johnson had in Washington. "What has been brought back from Washington?" Brown asked. "(Congressman Johnson is) close friends with the President. He has a seat on the transportation committee. Unless he can articulate why nothing sufficiently has been brought back here, then it would only lead me to believe that maybe not a whole lot of influence is being exerted in a powerful enough way."

The determining factors to his decision whether or not to run will be poll numbers and fundraising, he said.

"I want to see the votes... Secondly, I'm not naive enough to know I can't go to a football game without some shoulder pads. I'm going to have to see some money. I can't go to this race and try to win this race with $50,000."

"Realistically I know I can't outraise a fourth-term congressman in raising funds. But if I can raise enough to get my message out and talk about the issues and hear what the issues are, that will be a guiding force," said Brown. "I'm not hung up on having the most money, but I need enough money."

Brown said there was no real decision deadline, but he would give himself until around February 2014 to see the funding and polling numbers. "And if it's just not there, it's just not there, and there's nothing wrong with being sheriff." He said he had one set of encouraging poll numbers but was waiting to see more.

Regarding the Rockdale and Newton County portions of the Fourth District, Brown said, "If I decide to take this trip, if I'm elected to be their congressman, I'm not going to be the DeKalb County congressman. I'm going to be the Fourth District congressman."

Congressman Johnson's spokesperson confirmed he is running for reelection. In a released statement, Johnson said, "I look forward to participating in the electoral process that has made this country the envy of the world... I love this country and love serving the people of the Fourth District. I have a strong record and look forward to running on my record. We need a strong Democrat to continue representing the Fourth District."

(July 17, 11:25 a.m.) DeKalb County Sheriff Thomas Brown announced the formation of an exploratory committee for a bid for the Fourth Congressional District seat.

"I like the job that I have. It's an honor for me to serve the people of DeKalb County. But I look forward to the opportunity, if it presents itself, to serve the people of DeKalb, of Rockdale, of Newton and the people of Gwinnett County in representing the Fourth District," said Brown at a press conference outside the restaurant Arizona's at the Mall at Stonecrest.

"There are a number of things I think I can do. I think I can bring dynamic leadership and a strong voice, something I don't believe we have had to the level that we've had before. I want to be that voice if I choose to do this."

He added, "I will work not only to be a strong voice

DeKalb County Sheriff Thomas Brown will be exploring a bid for the Fourth Congressional District seat, currently held by Congressman Hank Johnson.

Brown, a four-term Sheriff for DeKalb County, has set up a website, www.thomasbrownforcongress.com, and Facebook page and will announce the formation of an exploratory committee at the restaurant Arizona's near the Mall at Stonecrest in Lithonia Wednesday.

According to his website, Brown began his public safety career in the Atlanta fire department, became DeKalb County fire chief and was eventually appointed public safety director in DeKalb by then DeKalb CEO Manuel Maloof. Brown first ran for sheriff in 2001 and is currently serving his fourth term.

Congressman Hank Johnson is also serving his fourth term in office. He defeated Republican candidate Chris Vaughn in the 2012 election with 73 percent of the vote to Vaughn's 26 percent of the vote. In the 2012 Democratic primary, Johnson won 67 percent of the vote to challengers Courtney Dillard, who had 24 percent and Lincoln Nunnally, who had 8 percent.

The Fourth Congressional District covers parts of Rockdale, Newton, Gwinnett and DeKalb counties.

The Hicks Evaluation Group (HEG)

Background:

HEG, LLC is a full service consulting firm founded in 2006. We are experienced in managing candidate, issue and referenda political campaigns throughout Florida and Georgia. Our experience spans all levels, from the local to the national. We bring this experience combined with a personal touch to every campaign. We are not off the shelf, we provide on target solutions.

About The Founder: Fredrick Hicks

Fredrick Hicks received his undergraduate degree from Clayton State College & University in Integrative Studies with a focus on International Management. He received his Master's degree from Florida State University in International Affairs with a dual focus on Demography and Education. He has a graduate level certificate in Educational Planning, Policy and Analysis as well all of doctoral coursework in Program Evaluation, also from Florida State University. He previously served as the Statewide Data and Evaluation Manager for FEMA's Crisis Counseling Program, a Process Improvement Coordinator and has taught at George C. Wallace Community College, Florida State University and Florida A&M University's College of Education. Fredrick has managed/consulted numerous campaigns in Florida, Georgia and was recently engaged in the Los Angeles Mayoral campaign.

Fred is a member of the American Association for Public Opinion Research and is a frequent speaker for the New Leader's Council and the Young Elected Officials Network, among other organizations. Fredrick served as a key contributor to the 2012 how-to-campaign book, "Power of the Campaign Pyramid."

Fredrick is the Co-Director of the Truman National Security Project, Atlanta Chapter.

Services:

HEG is quickly becoming established as a leader in campaign services. As a full service firm, HEG can provide just about any service for your campaign and we can do it in English or Spanish. See below for a list of our services.

Automated Calls

We can deliver thousands of calls per minute and over a million in a day anywhere in the United States. To date, HEG has delivered over 10 million automated messages for candidates, businesses and organizations. With just 3 hours lead time, we can prepare, record and begin delivering your message to your audience.

Candidate/Issue Campaigns

HEG has consulted and/or managed campaigns at nearly every level from school board to Governor, including SPLOTS and Constitutional Amendments

Data Analysis

HEG assists your firm by conducting statistical analysis on data already collected. This service will help your firm give life to the numbers. Statistical computations include Descriptive/Inferential Statistics, ANOVAs, ANCOVAs, Regression Analysis, and Factor Analysis. We use SAS and SPSS to analyze data.

HEG is experienced in the creation and administration of reliable and valid surveys. Our firm can help you design surveys to get the answers to your questions.

Direct Mail

For HEG, direct mail is not about winning awards, it is about winning. Whether you need a rebrand or a new brand, HEG will craft an effort that will catch the eye, win the heart and move the movable.

Surveys

HEG is an emerging leader in polling and targeting. From candidate campaigns to issues, and from non profit organizations to for profit businesses, HEG can accurately assess your audience. But more than taking the temperature, HEG employs a propriety approach to microtargeting to help you mold and move your base. HEG's polling has been cited by Creative Loafing, the Atlanta Journal and Constitution, Daily Kos, Peach Pundit among others.

Sheriff Brown gauges run against Rep. Johnson

Submitted by Doug Richards, 11Alive Reporter
Wednesday, July 17th, 2013, 6:59pm
Topics: News

LITHONIA, Ga. -- He is one of the few undeniably popular politicians in DeKalb County: A sheriff who has easily won election four times and has avoided scandal.

When Thomas Brown announced Wednesday that he wants to run for Congress, he had sixty supporters behind him.

"I do want to go to Congress," Brown said while withholding his official candidacy as he gauges financial and political support

Brown has his eyes on a seat now held by fellow Democrat Hank Johnson -- a four term congressman.

"Imagine, Mr. Speaker, a world without balloons," Johnson intoned in the well of the House of Representatives in April, spoofing what he decried as a meaningless debate on the nation's helium reserve.

With a streak of humor drier than a desert, Johnson has become a bit of a star on C-span and YouTube.

17044414527

Some, such as a remark he made in which he suggested Guam could "capsize" have made Johnson a target of ridicule around the world. But Brown says it's not what's making him a target at home.

"I'm not running on his position on Guam. I'm running on being an effective leader for the fourth district," Brown said, citing the district's needs in education and transportation.

Brown says his fundraising prowess in the next few weeks will help him make a final decision on his congressional candidacy. He has to like what he sees so far. Johnson has a fraction of the cash-on-hand in his campaign bank account that most Georgia congressmen have.

In reports filed this month, Johnson reported having $58,417 in his campaign coffers. Brown's campaign bank account isn't that far behind at $46,459.46.

Many of Brown's backers are one-time Johnson backers. "I think Hank Johnson is a very good person and has acquitted himself well in Congress," said Steen Miles, a former state senator from DeKalb. "But when I go shopping, I'm going for the best. And I know what I want, and that person would be Tom Brown."

Through a spokesman, Johnson said "I have a strong record and I look forward to running on my record. We need a strong Democrat to continue representing the Fourth District."

Brown's backers want him to make his candidacy official soon. The primary is less than a year away.
